The modular product enriches the living room with its attractive cover and beautiful design. Your new oasis of well-being is completely covered with a high-quality fabric, which makes it possible to integrate the product centrally into the living room. Depending on the modules ordered, the product is prepared for your individual spatial conditions, as it is possible to choose between many different combinable modules. The modules can be connected to each other very individually via crocodile hooks. In addition, the product with its generous shape offers a lot of space for sitting and lying down. Thanks to the foam padding, comfortable sitting and lying is always possible. The elegant stool can be used individually, e.g. as a sofa extension or as a single module.
